

I am A Sigma Gamma Rho Legacy is a book making adults proud all while kids want to read more. Just by saying the title to my friends I had em` smirking to ask...

"Wait, Thais are you a Sigma Gamma Rho ? "

After I explain Im only reading the book's name, we laugh and talk about how great the title is. I mean... What if a Delta picked up the book at random and read the title aloud. Too funny!!!! (Back to the book) "I am A Sigma Gamma Rho Legacy" brings you through the life of a little girl growing up in the household of (you guessed it) a "Sigma Gamma Rho" mother.

With 85,000+ ladies calling Sigma Gamma Rho home I am more than sure there's little girls not to far behind itching to read the story of how Royal Blue & Gold is the two colors found around the house and on mommy's clothes.

I don't wanna spoil the book's total INK experience but get ready for 3 generations blazing through "Gold & Royal Blue ". I never joined a sorority in college (it was hard enough to make it to class on time) so it was refreshing to see how something that starts in school follows you home and crawls into your family tree. "You go Tiffany!!!! "

The illustrations were vivid as well. The pictures of the little girl growing into her own really carried the story home. James Eugene inked the book's awesome color so hats off to ya J.E. !! All in All I say all little girls should flip through the pages. Im sure it won't be found on the shelf of an Alpha Kappa Alpha but who cares.. There's thousands of Sigma's who'd be happy to keep Tiffany's pages warm. I love how Tiff found a way to introduce something so grown up to such a young age. Maybe if I had my Sigma Gamma Rho kid's book back in 1979 I'll be writing this from a Royal Blue & Gold desk with all my sorors pics on the wall.

Get ready Tiffany little girls Sigma Gamma Rho or not will be wanting more of your INK.
I know I do !!
